Wednesday
Specification
Sheet.

The Wednesday range is an exploration in creating an unassuming silhouette through a familiar typology.

The Wednesday chair

This timeless design is constructed from considered details and proportions, including a comfortably curved backrest and dished seat.

Easily stackable, the Wednesday chair has a lightness in its appearance, yet maintains a sturdy feeling in use. This is a quality that ensures longevity and suits a range of domestic and commercial interiors.

Driven by restraint and refinement, the Wednesday collection embodies a unique and contemporary identity.

The Wednesday stool

The Wednesday stool was designed to be a modest item that complements its environment. Bound by the same design principles as the Wednesday chair, the object is almost as expected.

A steel footrest anchors the legs in a robust way. This ensures a product that can endure longevity of use.

Like the chair, this stool is available in a range of finishes and is suitable for any interior space.

Lucas Wotawa

Lucas Wotawa is a product and furniture designer who founded his Auckland based studio in 2020.

Creating items that are simple and considered, a thorough design process leads to discovering objects that are useful, relevant and desired for everyday living. With a pragmatic foundation and broad understanding of materials and manufacturing, Lucas finds solutions that achieve longevity by ignoring trends in favour of timeless designs.

The fundamental core of the studio is to develop via model making and prototyping; this hands-on approach creates outcomes where people are at the forefront of decisions, whether that's the end user of the product or the craftspeople making it.

Left: Driven by restraint and refinement, the products created acknowledge a typology while finding a unique and contemporary identity.

Finalist in the 2022 Best Design Awards.
